

Stainless steel heavy duty table with perforated top

Our stainless steel heavy duty table with perforated top is perfect for any environment where airflow is critical, with the perforations allowing for air to flow through the hygienic stainless steel top and shelf.

Description

Our stainless steel rear tie bar heavy duty table with perforated top is an ideal surface for industries that require sterile, hygienic and contamination resistant surfaces. It is more sturdy with a heavier payload for items that are of a heavier weight.

With both the top and optional shelf perforated for optimum airflow and an all 304L-grade stainless steel construction, it's the perfect hygienic work surface for any clean environment. Available as standard in 314-grade stainless steel or please ask for 316-grade stainless steel.

However, if you have a particular challenge in mind and we don't offer the solution below please contact our team and ask for our bespoke options!
